THE PROBLEM

Deel had experienced unprecedented growth, achieving a $5.5B valuation in under two years from its founding. They needed to bring in executive talent fungible enough to succeed in a present day 300 person company that would quickly scale to a complex and matrixed 3k+ organization in the near future.

PLENTY'S SOLUTIONS

Plenty knew this role needed a candidate who not only participated in hyper-scale, but built processes to enable it and had done communications at a world-class level. Our researchers assembled an exhaustive list, and after narrowing down to a shortlist of top communications executives, Elizabeth's experience and style stood out and she was hired within 5 weeks.

Given their in-house experience, Plenty understood our business needs deeply, allowing them to act as true Talent Advisors to me. They'll be an extended part of the Deel talent team for years to come.
